Your children

1

Create a special memory that your child will remember only "you" for. The special Friday afternoon treat from the corner shop. Taking the dog to a special park that only "you" take them too. Baking some cupcakes or cookies and being allowed to lick the spoon! Create as many of these types of activities as you like and collectively it will form a collage of happy memories.

2

Grow your favourite plant (a sturdy one that is adaptable to all types of weather conditions is best) in the garden and when you move take it with you. Our family has some beautiful purple Iris's that have been moved from house to house by generation to generation around NSW for over 100 years. It's a great special memory!

3

Choose a charity that is close to your heart and get your children involved to help raise some money. They will have great fun and feel proud to have helped others as well as a special memory of time you spent doing something important together.

Get a map of Australia or the World. Mark the places you have been to already and make a list of places you might like to visit. Then as you plan your future holidays you can look at your list and decide where to go. In the meantime you can research the different destinations so you learn about different places together!!

Create a special Family Tree that shows how everyone relates to each other. You could display new and old photos and even write some interesting information about each person. The kids will not only learn where they fit into the family but how special and different we all are!
